Wanted
WALNUT LOGS

An appeal for our country as a whole.

We, the Penrod Walnut Veneer Co., of Kansas City, Mo., are the manufacturers of gunstocks and airplane propellers for the United States. This is one of the most practical needs for our army in France. The manufacturers of gunstocks are running short every day. There is a shortage of 3,500 per day. It is a fact that walnut is not so plentiful as it has been in past, but there is walnut enough in our country if the people would only respond as they should. It is not only a patriotic duty for you are getting value received for the timber. The valuation is the highest ever known. It is the highest timber market at present time. Why? Because the demand was never so great, and it is at its highest. Many people think, because they haven't a large number of trees that it wouldn't mean much, but, it will take every log of the diameter of 12 inches and up and if those who have walnut would notify our buyer, Beryl McClelland, P. O. Maryville, Mo., box 200 or our office.

This will be greatly appreciated by the mill and our government.

Respectfully,
Penrod Walnut Veneer Co.,
Kansas City, Mo.

Charles R. Hall of Seattle, well known globe trotter and artist, is here on a business trip for the purpose of painting pictures of the Caldwell herd of fine Aberdeen-Angus cattle, the order for which was given him by Messrs. Caldwell some months ago. Mr. Hall a former Nodaway county boy, brings with him this time a number of paintings of Alaska scenes, he having spent two months last year in the far north getting material.

TWO MORE TO HARVEST FIELD

Sheriff Dowden and C. F. Remus Leave Their Offices to Help Out In the Hay Fields This Week

Sheriff John Dowden hit the trail to the hay field yesterday morning and with a pair of lop-eared mules and a helper put up twenty-four loads of hay. Gus Romasser says that with the assistance of the aforesaid mules and helper John can put up more hay in one day than any man in the court house, or Nodaway county for that matter. Gus says the sheriff's office is prepared to back up this assertion with the necessary amount of kopecks.

Charley Remus also felt the call of the new mown this morning, and all delled up in overalls and jumper climbed into a waiting automobile at an early hour and was whisked away to the hay field where he is making a hand and helping to win the war.

A BAND CONCERT TOMORROW

New Organization Will Give Open Air Program at 8:30 o'Clock On the Court House Lawn

Maryville will be given the opportunity to hear the newly organized band tomorrow night when an outdoor concert will be given on the court house lawn. This will mark the first public appearance of the band since practice was begun several weeks ago under the direction of P. O. Landon. While no program is announced in advance popular numbers will be played.

The members of the band are anxious that a good impression be made on their first public appearance, but as one of the men explained, "tell the folks not to expect too much the first time."

The band has been organized, or rather re-organized, less than six weeks. Many of the players in the old band are members of the new organization and splendid progress has been made. The concert tomorrow night will begin at 8.30 o'clock.

Judge and Mrs. John M. Dawson and Mrs. Lafe Dawson returned yesterday from Caney, Kans., where they have been visiting relatives.

Prof. R. E. McKee of Warrensburg is spending a few days in Maryville.

THE STATE PRIMARY

IS NEXT IMPORTANT STATE AND POLITICAL EVENT

ELECT COMMITTEEMEN

In Wards and Townships One Week Following Primary—Congressional Committees Meet on August 20

St. Louis, June 19.—The next important event in state and local politics will be the primary elections, Tuesday, August 6. There will be no registration for the state primary. In a general way the laws relating to primaries are similar to those for the state biennial elections.

The date has passed for candidates to file declarations for office. Vacancies existing on a ticket after the primary may be filled by the proper political committees up to within 20 days of the general election. The law provides that at least twenty days prior to the general election the secretary of state shall certify to the election commissioners and county clerks a full list of party nominees.

The candidates to be voted on at the state primary must be certified to commissioners and clerks not less than five days before the primary by the secretary of state. Candidates may withdraw by notifying the secretary of state or the proper local officials before the official ballot is made up.

Ward committeemen in cities and township committeemen in counties are elected the day of the state primary.

August 13, one week following the primary, ward and township committeemen shall meet and elect a chairman and vice chairman who shall become members of their respective congressional, state senatorial and judicial committees. There is an exception to this provision under which St. Louis and Kansas City war committeemen become congressional committeemen.

The congressional committees meet Tuesday, August 20, and effect organizations for the ensuing two years.

August 27 the new state committees meet at various places in the state to b edesignated by the chairman, together with all state and congressional nominees, elect officers and proceed to formulate a state party platform.

SEA SERPENT TALES

RHINOCEROS HUNTER TELLS OF SEEING MONSTER

IT WAS 150 FEET LONG

Of Unusual Size Even for a Sea Monster—Chinese and Hottentots Went Crazy When Reptile Appeared

New York, June 19.—The first real sea serpent story since the beginning of the great war was brought here yesterday by Ethelbert G. Fotheringay who has been in Africa for the last two years collecting rhinoceros hides and ivory nuts for a Chicago importing firm. He was somewhat disinclined to tell the sea serpent tales because of the skeptical manner in which it was received by his friends in Cape Town. Mr. Fotheringay who is a tall, bronzed man with the burned-eye expression of those who have lived on the desert sands under a tropical sun, said he saw that sea serpent three months ago while traveling from Swakopmund, formerly German Southwest Africa, to Cape Town.

"I was on board the old African steamship Lum-Lum, which carried a Chinese crew with Dutch officers, and was commanded by Captain Johann Van den Woof, one of the oldest skippers on the coast, a lifelong teetotaler and a Baptist. There was only one other white passenger besides myself, Guy ee Jolipas, the famous French gorilla hunter, and about 200 Hottentots and Kaffirs.

"It was a sweltering afternoon," Mr. Fotheringay continued, "and the ship was about 150 miles northwest of Cape Town. The temperature was 105 in the shade, with a copper-colored sky and the sea like boiled oil. Guy, the gorilla hunter, had just thrown a chatty at the head of Oolu the Hottentot cabin boy because he had brought him a bottle of beer without ice, when I heard a wild yell from the deck and saw the panic-stricken natives trying to get down the after hatch. Looking over the port side I saw the weidest monster that one could possibly imagine, afloat or ashore. When I tell you calmly that the head of this animal, which I realized at once was the sea serpent of the ancients, was as large as a good sized pork barrel, I do not exaggerate. I refer to the ordinary 200-pound barrel, and not to the tierce of beef which is usually 350 pounds or more.

"The sea serpent's head was about eight feet above the surface of the sea and about three feet across in the widest part. Its face was covered with bristly spikes, which stuck out at angles, and the large round eyes gazed curiously at the steamship in a reproachful manner as if the noise of the propeller had disturbed its afternoon siesta.

"The neck was not more than twelve inches in diameter and was partly hidden by dark, hard-looking barnacles. I could not say exactly how long the sea serpent was, but judging by the last ripple when it moved I think 150 feet would be about the mark. Captain Van den Woof was very much excited as he stood with his telescope on the bridge examining the marine monster. 'Gott fur dicker!' he shouted. 'This is the big sea serpent the old Danish skipper Jensen reported three months ago at Cape Town, and the people said he was crazy.'

"The captain gave orders to the officers on watch to steam around the sea serpent carefully and get as close as the ship could go without running into needless danger. Five times the Lum-Lum circumnavigated the sea monster, which turned its massive head slowly and regarded the vessel with a wistful look as if he wanted to speak to us and tell about his travels around the world. No one had a camera on board and the finest chance to snap the sea serpent was lost. Guy, the hunter, had one when we left Swakopmund, but he broke it on Oolu's head two hours later and threw the debris over the side. He fired his express rifle at the monster several times, and the skipper peppered away from the bridge with an old Snider rifle, but the bullets glanced off its hide without having any perceptible effect.

"Finally the captain gave orders to resume the course, and the Lum-Lum steamed away for Cape Town. The last we saw of the sea serpent astern was the great barrel-shaped head wagging slowly up and down, followed

ITALY'S LINE SOLID

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN FORCES UNABLE TO BREAK THROUGH

PUSHED THE ENEMY BACK

Counter Attacks by the Italians and Allies Have Resulted In Restoring Their Positions as They Were

Rome, June 19.—The general outlines of the battle front have remained unchanged, said a semi-official statement just issued. Thrusts by the Italians and their Allies in the Asiago plateau region and at Mont Grappa have restored their positions as they were before the Austrian offensive started last Saturday.

The enemy continued his pressure along the mountain front and in the region of Montello, said Premier Orlando today, and they have made repeated efforts to break through on the Piave, but in vain.

London, June 19.—The British attacked and recaptured a post from the Germans near Vieux Berquin on the Flanders front, the war office announced today. During the night there was heavy shelling near Moric and artillery was active in the Ancre valley and at Mericourt sector. The French repulsed a German raid in the region of Locre.

MAY DECLARE WAR ON TURKS

Turks In Overt Act Took Possession of American Consulate and Sacked an American Hospital

Washington, June 19.—Apparently an overt act that may result in a declaration of war on Turkey has been reported to the state department by John L. Caldwell, American minister at Teheran, Persia. According to the dispatch the Turks have taken the city of Tabriz, where they took possession of the America nand British consulates and sacked an American hospital.

BIG SMASH AT RHEIMS A FAILURE

RUNS MAKE DESPERATE EFFORT TO TAKE THE SHELL-WRECKED CITY

THREE DIVISIONS ARE HURLED AT THE FRENCH

In Twenty-mile Semi-circle the German Soldiers Were Under Orders to Storm the City or Die Trying — Met Heavy Losses

Two great battles in the northwestern theatre of war have been raging during the past twenty-four hours. While the Austrians were driving against the Italians along the Piave the Germans suddenly launched a powerful assault in a desperate effort to storm the shell-wrecked city of Rheims in France. The attack, which was preceded by a violent cannonade, was carried out by three divisions along a twenty-mile front, which formed a semi-circle around the famous city. Notwithstanding the desperate fury of the assaults, the German soldiers being under orders to "storm the city or die trying," the Teutons were unable to gain any ground whatever.

The new German drive may be regarded as a continuation of the Aisne-Marne offensive. On the Italian front the Austrians continued to concentrate their heaviest attacks along the Piave.

As the situation stood today the Italian and French fornts shared the world's interest in the war.

Paris, June 19.—Following a violent bombardment on a twenty-mile front between Vrigny and Fort Mapronelle the Germans began a drive against the Rheims last night, pentrating to the wood north of the Fort, but the French immediately counter attacked and threw them back into their former positions. Everywhere the Germans were repulsed by the French fire and were rolled back with heavy losses.

LEMONADE MAYBE SOUR

Only 80 Per Cent Normal Requirement of Sugar May Be Used

Numerous requests have come to the state food administration for permission to use sugar in making lemonade and other soft drinks at picnics. F. B. Mumford, federal food administrator for Missouri, has ruled that county food administrators may issue permits to those making application to them to purchase 80 per cent of the amount they would normally require to sweeten their lemonade. This places the preparation of soft drinks for picnics on the same basis as are manufacturers of other soft drinks.

It is to prevent waste of wheat in harvesting and threshing that the food administration is urging farmers to use the most efficient methods possible. Threshermen's assistants have been appointed to oversee the repairing of machines and to see that no wheat is wasted in the threshing process. Care in harvesting and threshing will save millions of bushels of wheat, the food administration estimates.

MENDING MOTHERS BIG HELP

Armed With Needles, Thread, Patches and Buttons, Boys In Camp Look Forward to Their Coming

San Diego, Calif., June 19.—Camp Kearney, the great military training camp of southern California, is receiving almost daily attacks from an organization known as "The Mending Mothers."

Armed with needles and thread, patches and buttons, surprise attacks are made upon the various units and clothing of all descriptions is mended, patched and repaired in tip top shape, such as mothers only can do. Each soldier's "army trousseau" is thoroughly renovated and a note left for the soldier by the thimble squadron telling the day or week the organization will again visit the regiment.

While the mending mothers sew away a regimental band furnishes music to the time of the needles and then over to the mess hall goes the entire organization for luncheon.

"This organization is a real help to us all," said one officer, "and all of us surely look forward to their coming with real cheer."

This sale will continue until Saturday night, June 29th—our stock is still very complete and you should not fail to take advantage of these EXCEPTIONAL CLOTHING BARGAINS.

SUITS

This sale of Men's and Young Men's High Grade Suits is of the greatest interest this year. Suit prices are very high now, but we have not raised the old prices, and these sale prices are really much lower than we can buy the same goods for at wholesale. For that reason they are more than ordinary bargains. Another thing that should be interesting is the quality. The fact that the Government is using all the wool makes it certain that goods of this quality will be hard to get. So you will make a big saving by attending this sale.

by a big commotion in the water, and then he disappeared beneath the surface. Judging by the course taken the serpent was going at an easy 20-knot gait toward the Bight of Benin."

On arrival at Cape Town, Mr. Fotheringay said that the report of the sighting of the sea serpent, which had been duly recorded in the log of the Lum-Lum, was treated in the same incredulous manner as that made by the Danish captain three months previously on oath. He added that the African coast abounded with strange marine monsters, and a diver at Swakopmund had a terrific fight under water with a devilfish which had tentacles thirty-five feet long.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss Flo Kelly, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

WILL STACK MORE WHEAT.

Jefferson City, June 19.—Reports being received by Secretary Jewell Mayes of the state board of agriculture indicate large increase of interest in the stacking of wheat this year. County councils of defense will do well to "mobilize" all available wheat stackers, especially in counties having large acreages. Stacking wheat protects against loss when the farmer is forced to wait too long for the thresher. "A wheat stacking" bulletin is sent free on request to the Jefferson City office.

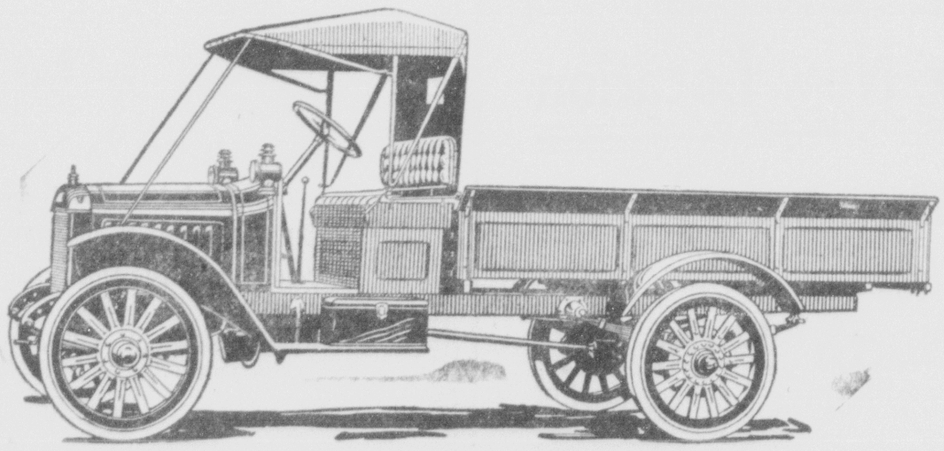
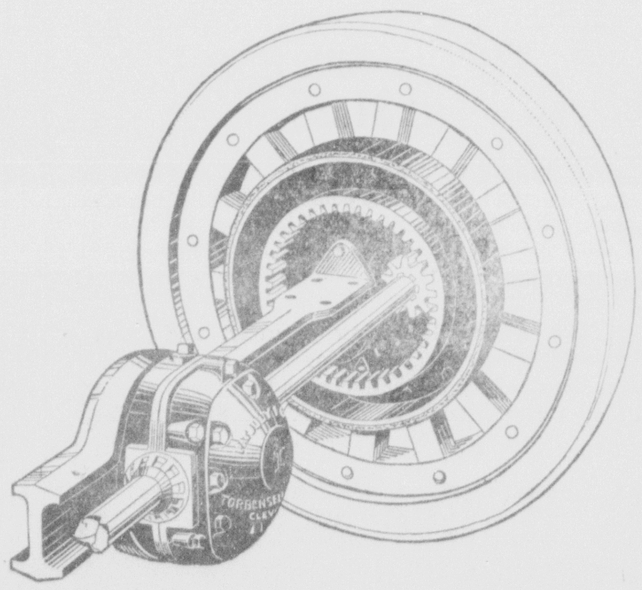
When The Crops Must Be Moved Quickly
Let Republic Do It!



The cut below illustrates the Republic-Torbensen Internal Gear Drive used in Republic Trucks. A section of the rear axle construction and one of the road wheels are shown. In front of the differential you see the massive drop-forged I-beam dead axle which carries the entire load and takes care of the side sway and road shock. Back of this is the nickel steel drive shaft. Its sole work is to drive the truck—to move the load. The pinion on the end of the drive shaft is meshed in the internal gear on each rear road wheel, between the hub and the rim, insuring greatest leverage, more power, more work on less fuel.

Every buyer gets a Gold Bond Guarantee covering I-beam Axle and Spindles for the life of the truck and internal gears for two years.



Republic Internal Gear Drive Truck

Republic Farm Trucks have the extra power and strength for all your field hauling as well as your road work. With your sturdy Republic you have big service, and quick service (when speed means saving your crops). You have 24-hour a day service if you want it. Farmers of America are putting Republics on the job because they are built for the hardest demands of farm work—and because they save money. Of the more than 30,000 Republics in use, many thousands are now on the farms. Speed up your work and make your crops safe with the Republic.

Seven models, ¾-ton to 5-ton—a truck for every farm need. We furnish bodies for every kind of farm hauling.
